

Recruitment Team Manager

Yes, we truly believe we are creating a company that could be different from all the other ones and that's the idea that brought us together and, for sure, will attract you to join our squad.

Devop1 is a 100% global company, a union of professionals who welcome differences in approaches and judgments as it's what makes us stronger day by day. We at Devop1 are growing and we are looking for a passionate Recruitment Manager to take the lead of our Bulgarian team, one who can and wants to bring a lot to the table in building a perfect company.

As the Team Manager, you will:

- Lead the recruitment activities of the company in Bulgaria;
- Organize, coach and act as the best example for the team of recruiters;
- Partner with customers as a strategic partner in order to ensure their strategic objectives and hiring needs are met;
- Source and recruit candidates (directly and indirectly);
- Collaborate with hiring managers and provide support as needed;
- Contribute to the further development and growth of the company on the Bulgarian and international markets.

YOU are welcomed as you bring:

- 5+ years of previous experience on a similar role;
- University degree in Human resources; Economy; Psychology or related;
- Excellent team management, organizational and time-management abilities;
- Perfect communication, influencing and team playing skills;
- Sound knowledge of the job market, trends and best practices in recruitment and team management (digital teams);
- Sourcing techniques (e.g. social media recruiting and Boolean search);
- Hands-on experience with Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS) recruiting software and candidate databases.

In return YOU will get:

- Very good remuneration;
- Flexible employment and schedule that allows you to work from anywhere;
- A chance to work with the most trailblazing companies in the world;
- Personal development budget;
- Unparalleled growth opportunities;
- Limitless empowerment.
